

WHITE LION WALK

Guildford Town Centre Surprises Guaranteed

'Trick or treat' was a safe bet at White Lion Walk

On Sunday 30th October, White Lion Walk Shopping Centre was the place to be for lots of Halloween fun. With the safest trick or treat trail in town and ghoulish face painting on offer, there were plenty of spooky shoppers enjoying their day.

The event followed research suggesting that, last year, the UK spent approximately £280 million on Halloween alone with thousands of children running around their neighbourhood in search of goodies. However, organisers recognised that for many parents the tradition could be a daunting task as children become insistent on joining in the fun and games with their friends just as the nights begin to draw in.

Centre Manager of White Lion Walk, Steve Cotney, commented: "The day was a huge success with lots of fun to be had. We must say a huge thank you to Stateside Candy Co who provided all the treats for the children who looked very scary in their fancy dress outfits but it was fantastic to see witches and ghosts wandering around the Centre on their weekend shop. We have run this event for a few years now and it is still a real pleasure to be able to provide a secure, dry and clean environment for the children as well as teaching them a valuable lesson in safety."
