Coffee Morning huge success with commuters

On Friday 28th September, White Lion Walk Shopping Centre with the help of several local commuters travelling into the centre of Guildford via Artington Park and Ride, hosted one of Guildford's biggest Macmillan Coffee Mornings.

White Lion Walk treated locals to free Starbucks coffee and Millie's cookies all with the aim of raising vital funds for Macmillan Cancer Support through their World's Biggest Coffee Morning campaign. Macmillan nurses help thousands of people every year in our region who live with cancer and the people of Guildford were incredibly generous when donating for their coffee and cookies which resulted in over £310 being raised throughout the morning.

From 7.30am, there was a constant stream of commuters using the Park and Ride and thanks to White Lion Walk's centre management team and their cheeky mascot Lionel the Lion, around two hundred cups of coffee were drunk and two hundred and fifty yummy cookies were consumed.

Centre Manager of White Lion Walk, Steve Cotney, commented: "I would like to say a big thank you to all of those who donated money at our coffee morning. I am delighted with the response every year and am proud that White Lion Walk is able to support such a worthwhile cause."
